

Currently Available Funding and Other Resources for Pandemic Response and Recovery

July 31, 2020

Introduction

This report is designed to provide timely and relevant reference of available federal funding and other resources to assist the efforts of public, not-for-profit and for-profit organizations to respond to and recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic and the resulting economic downturn. The report contains resources organized into topics. We hope that you will forward the report to your colleagues and other agencies that have interest or missions that are consistent with the other topics.

The report is derived from a national database from which we can provide more detailed information on request. For specific information on a single program use the included web link.

The report is compiled at the beginning of each week. If you would like to be added to the mailing list, contact Denise Balkas at Denise.balkas@fema.dhs.gov.
