CCAP's Board Tours Indiana County

The County Commissioners Association of Pennsylvania held its board of directors meeting last week in Indiana County, home county of CCAP's 2025 President Sherene Hess.

The board toured various sites throughout the county showcasing local industry, environmental efforts and behavioral health services.

Stops included Miller Fabrication Solutions, the Blacklick Creek Water Treatment Plant, and the new Mountains Behavioral Health Center. In addition to learning about the county, it also underscored CCAP's commitment to advocate for increased mental health funding.

Coverage of the board's visit was highlighted in the Indiana Gazette.

CCAP Members - ART Survey Open Until June 20

Following the CCAP Board of Directors' recent approval to establish the Committee for Arts, Recreation, and Tourism (ART), all CCAP members are encouraged to complete the survey emailed on May 29 by tomorrow, June 20.

Completion of the survey will assist in determining the level of interest and potential involvement with the Committee.

NACo's Annual Conference is less than a month away!

The NACo Annual Conference is the premier event for county leaders, featuring federal policy discussions, best practice workshops, mobile tours, and engaging sessions.

Key Highlights include:

Monday, July 14 - Mobile workshops will take attendees into Philadelphia for hands-on learning focused on local innovations in sustainability, public art, infrastructure, wellness, and riverfront development.

Sunday, July 13 - Explore four in-depth County Forums on public lands, health & well-being, fiscal health, and economic opportunity—featuring expert insights, innovative strategies, and interactive discussions on today's top local government challenges.

Experience Philadelphia - Explore Philly's vibrant energy with its rich history, iconic landmarks, world-class museums, diverse neighborhoods, public art, and a renowned food scene.
